In our endeavour to support the social responsibility we sponsored the campaign "Learn to Lead" which in its first year of inception became a nationwide phenomenon. "Learn to Lead" was accepted wholeheartedly not only by students but schools, colleges, parents, state and central administration and a lot of NGO's supported the cause and helped in generating a positive trend towards the professional courses and increasing the Gross Enrolment Ratio (GER). The primary aim of Learn to Lead was to motivate students to continue their higher education and provide them with an option to explore the benefits of experiential learning and skills based higher education in India.

The students through their schools participated in a competitive write-up, where they were expected to write down their understanding on "how learning acts as an important element to become an effective leader". The thoughts reflected their perception as to how the learning helps in becoming an effective leader. The campaign demonstrated the significance of experiential learning and its application to become an effective global leader.

4,500 schools with 5,00,000 students actively participated in the campaign and got various benefits and accolades including financial support. The campaign brought a lot of interface amongst students, professionals, administrators, sportspersons, educationists, bureaucrats and politicians sharing their experiences, good practice and governance for becoming an effective leader. The campaign was initiated both at regional and national level.

The campaign was honored and presided by eminent dignitaries and personalities across the country, naming a few, Maharaja Mahendra Aridaman Singh, MLA Uttar Pradesh, Minister Surface Transport, Mrs. Surjit Kaur, Deputy DPI Schools, Punjab, Ms. Sharda Rathore MLA Haryana, Chief Parliament Secretary, Mr. Rakesh Verma IAS, Secretary Planning, Government of Rajasthan, Dr. Arun Adsul Ex Vice Chancellor Pune University, Maharashtra, Mr. K Muralidharan MLA, Kerala, Mrs. Annette van de Meene, General Manager, Hotelschool The Hague, Netherlands, Mr. Manoj Kr Mishra, Vice Chancellor Lucknow University, Mr. Mahesh Sharma, Executive Chef - Le-Meridian, Jaipur and many more educationist and professionals facilitated the event and acknowledged the schools, teachers and students effort in becoming the part of Learn to Lead campaign.

One of the best aspects of studying at UEI Global is the quality of the faculty members and the rigour of the program.
